

Nathaniel Heller

As Vice President & Managing Director at both Geneva Global and its parent nonprofit, Global Impact, Nathaniel oversees all advisory work spanning private foundations, ultra-high net worth individuals and families, and international nonprofits. He and his teams help develop giving strategies and grantee portfolios, cultivate peer donors to launch donor collaboratives and pooled funds, and support high-impact non-governmental organizations raising and diversifying their revenue.

Prior to joining Geneva Global, Nathaniel served as an Executive Vice President at Results for Development \(R4D\), where he oversaw many of the organization's technical teams aimed at strengthening health, education, and nutrition systems in low-income countries. Earlier in his career, Nathaniel co-founded and led Global Integrity, an international non-governmental anti-corruption organization working in more than 100 countries to strengthen government transparency and accountability safeguards. From 2017 to 2019, he co-chaired the Open Government Partnership (a multi-stakeholder partnership spanning governments and civil society) and was the catalyst behind the establishment of the OpenGov Hub, the world's first thematic co-working space focused on open government issues. He began his career working at a non-profit investigative journalism organization (the Center for Public Integrity) and at the US Department of State.

Nathaniel holds a bachelor's degree from the University of Delaware and completed his graduate work at Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service. He currently serves on the boards of IREX, Development Gateway, the Partnership for Transparency Fund, and World Bicycle Relief.
